DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Cunningham frame house is located along Old Route 220 South near McCoolle, Allegany County on the east side of the road, nine tenths of a mile north of McCoolle.

The house consists of a two story, four bay wide rectangular shaped block. A narrow two story wing abuts the main block on the rear eastern side. The building is a frame structure which is covered with insul brick siding and supported by a high cut stone foundation with plain water table. The roof of the structure is gabled including a soffit and is covered with replaced asphalt shingles. Windows in the building include double hung wooden sash frames with one-over-one lights and plain trim. The main entrance is located on the front western face and exhibits a replaced paneled door with side lights and plain trim. An end porch covers the front entrance and features a hipped roof which is supported by four columns. Two corbeled brick chimneys, which are original, are located to the interior of the main facade.

The house is structurally very sound and retains most of its original fabric and appearance.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

The Cunningham frame house is a perfect example of the homes built in Allegany County in the early 20th century. Being built around 1910, the house features the typical rectangular shape and is covered with insul brick, a material widely used during this time period. Ornate wood work covers the front porch, which is also characteristic of the architectural styling of the time.
